Well I've managed to put it all together for the public viewing. I would like to sell it but I don't have the guts. It is a fun sequence of events to view in my opinion. My mom wants me to somehow find work and I would like to work doing what I enjoy programming. But I don't know how to go about it. This is from my private collection however I've edited the contents so it could be viewed by the public. The intro progresses all the way until the last screen with a little help by you. When you've reached the last screen the puzzle begins. It doesn't look hard at first however if you move the block around enough it becomes difficult. Anyways you could always exit if you tire and want to quit. It is meant to be played by two players. The first player shuffles the screen so it becomes a puzzle. The second player tried to return the puzzle to its original layout. hehe Enjoy!
