Here is a game in the making. I like to call it TurtleMom because she loves that story. She always was put down when she was younger. So she tells me this story because it gives her hope that someone who is slow could be better one day.

Note:

This game uses the SONY PS1 controller. However you need a USB port adapter for your controller if you use the SONY PS1 controller from the device that has not been modified. Quadko from www.dosgames.com should be able to tell you the one that I'm talking about.

Remember it is still in the making. Not done yet.
