Corncob 3d 3.42

<http://vetusware.com/download/Corncob%203d%203.42/?id=15012>

an air combat game --- The date is August, 1949. This is not the 1949 that we remember, though. In this 1949 WWII never happened (this is because among other factors, Adolf Hitler was killed at the age of 19 when hit in the head by a thrown beer bottle), but all was not peace in this alternate age. In 1938 aliens swept down out of the skies and began to set up structures. Although many attempts were made to communicate, the aliens did not respond. It soon became obvious that these creatures simply were not interested in us, or in any other life on the planet. When human dwellings or sites were in their way, the aliens destroyed them and continued their seemingly random construction plans. So in 1941 the world governments agreed to band together in an alliance for humanity. No attacks were launched until November 1941. The plan was a simultaneous all out blitz against the extraterrestrials in every part of the globe. Your mission is critical in this plan. You must destroy several alien structures, and in the process, many aliens themselves. If you do not succeed the entire human effort will fail.

Extreme Pinball 1.0

<http://vetusware.com/download/Extreme%20Pinball%201.0/?id=15013>

A very cool scrolling-screen pinball game featuring great graphics and stereo sound. 4 different tables to choose from. Runs perfectly in DOSBox. Run SETUP.EXE first time to set the sound to sound blaster compatible, then run EXTREME.EXE to play....Enjoy!
