Sailor Moon and Her Sailor Scouts Computer Fun Set Demo

Sailor Moon and Her Sailor Scouts Computer Fun Set is a shareware game based on the North American Sailor Moon TV series from 1995 by DiC Entertainment. It allows children to create a scene using stickers, similar to the use of Colorforms. This is the shareware version of the game. The file is just about 1 MB and can only use up to five stickers per page. Pictures can only be printed but not exported or saved. The Windows version is compatible from Windows 3.1 up to 32-bit editions of Windows 7, 8.1 and 10, but if you are running the 64-bit editions of Windows Vista and Windows 7, you can use a Windows 95 or 98 virtual machine with Microsoft's Virtual PC 2007 (I used 95 as an example). It is also compatible with DOSBox emulations of Windows 3.1, but VirtualBox is untested for now. There are only two modules that are available in the demo version: One with Simple Geometric Shapes, and the other with Serena and her Friends.
