I found a cool video that showed you how to get updates for Windows XP until 2019 simply by using updates for XP's clone OS Windows Embedded POSReady 2009. Yes, it is legit and I used it for a little while (I am on Windows 7 now) but I wonder, what does Microsoft think of this? Will they discontinue it because people are using it to get updates to their old OS ? Interesting...

I installed XP 2 months ago and never turned on automatic updates. I'm fine with being outdated
